

NEW ZEALAND MAJOR EVENTS

New Zealand Association of Event Professionals Bursary Programme

On: 4 July 2014

The Ministry of Business, Innovation and Employment and the New Zealand Association of Events Professionals are once again offering up to ten Professional Development Bursaries to attend the annual Eventing the Future 2014 (ETF14), to be held in Christchurch from 6-7 August.

The Ministry of Business, Innovation and Employment and the New Zealand Association of Events Professionals are once again offering up to ten Professional Development Bursaries to attend the annual Eventing the Future 2014 (ETF14), to be held in Christchurch from 6-7 August.

The bursaries will provide registration for successful entrants, and are being offered as part of the ongoing partnership between the two organisations. They are aimed at event career-focused individuals who want to make a difference within the industry, and who can demonstrate how the conference will assist their professional development.

“The Bursaries provide an opportunity for event organisers to up-skill and supports the professional development of recipients in a number of different ways. The conference has such a mix of attendees that I hope this encourages even more new and up and coming event organisers to attend” says Kylie Archer, Manager Major Events.

To apply for the Professional Development Bursary simply answer the following questions and email them to info@nzaep.co.nz no later than 17 July.

Please also include your contact details and attach a professional profile or CV

1. Why will attending Eventing the Future be beneficial for your professional development needs and career goals? You may wish to reference specific components in the programme in your answer.
2. Where do you think the New Zealand Events Industry is heading in the next five to ten years? What do you think the industry needs to support its growth?
3. Tell us about yourself, and why you should be awarded this opportunity.

Please also include your contact details and attach a professional profile or CV.

The Bursaries are for ETF14 registration only and do not include travel, accommodation or other miscellaneous expenses. Applicants must be working in the events industry in New Zealand and be a member, or work for a member organisation, of the NZ Association of Event Professionals.
