

NEW ZEALAND MAJOR EVENTS

Triathlon World Champs gets support

On: 28 June 2010

The government has shown its continued support for major events with Economic Development Minister Gerry Brownlee announcing a $900,000 contribution from the Major Events Development Fund to New Zealand's hosting of the 2012 Triathlon ITU World Championships Series grand final.

28 June 2010

The government has shown its continued support for major events with Economic Development Minister Gerry Brownlee announcing a $900,000 contribution from the Major Events Development Fund to New Zealand's hosting of the 2012 Triathlon ITU World Championships Series grand final.

It was revealed this afternoon that Auckland will host the final event in 2012's eight-race world championships series, which has recently been reformatted by the International Triathlon.

Go here for the full media statement.